

Conflict of Interest Policy for SDA Business and Financial Consultants CC (Pty) Ltd, FSP Number 14499

1. Introduction

In terms of the General Code of Conduct for Authorised Financial Services Providers and Representatives (General Code), Board Notice 80 of 2003, subordinate legislation to the Financial Advisory and Intermediaries Services (FAIS) Act, 37 of 2002 as well as Amendment to the General Code of Conduct for Authorised Financial Services Providers, 2003 and the Specific Code of Conduct for Authorised Financial Services Providers and Representatives conducting Short-Term Deposit Business, 2004, SDA Business and Financial Consultants CC is required to maintain and operate an effective organisational and administrative arrangements with a view to taking all reasonable steps to identify, monitor and manage conflict of interest in respect of their clients.

A conflict of interest involves the actual, apparent or potential abuse of the trust that people have in professionals. The simplest working definition states: A conflict of interest is a situation in which financial or other personal considerations have the potential to compromise or bias professional judgment and objectivity. An apparent conflict of interest is one in which a reasonable person would think that the professional's judgment is likely to be compromised. A potential conflict of interest involves a situation that may develop into an actual conflict of interest. It is important to note that a conflict of interest exists whether or not decisions are affected by a personal interest. A conflict of interest implies only the potential for bias, not the likelihood.

SDA Business and Financial Consultants CC has put in place a policy to safeguard its clients' interests and also ensure a fair treatment of its clients' which policy is available on request from the FSP, Compliance Officer and Key Individual who is responsible to monitor and manage conflict of interest on behalf of the FSP.

The nature of the above financial services provided by SDA Business and Financial Consultants CC potentially exposes this FSP to conflicts of interests in respect of its clients and hence this Conflict-of-Interest Policy has been put in place to: -

- identify circumstances which may give rise to actual or potential conflicts of interest entailing a material risk of damage to our client's interests;
- establish appropriate structures and systems to minimise and manage those conflicts; and
- maintain systems in order to prevent damage to our clients' interests through identified conflicts of interest.

The actual or potential existence of a conflict of interest may, in itself, not be a wrongdoing or undesirable practice. It is, however, imperative to properly disclose the nature and monetary value, if determinable, of such conflict to a client. Such disclosure can be made prior to the rendering of financial services or in the record of advice and should preferably be recorded in a register kept by the provider. Full disclosure allows a potential client to decide whether, in the client's view, a conflict situation may indeed be biasing advice and the client will therefore be better equipped to assess whether the advice given is being unduly influenced.

3. Specific Duties of a Provider in terms of the General Code of Conduct

- iii) quality of the representative's compliance with this Act;

Section 3A(2)(a) of the General Code of Conduct stipulates that every provider, other than a representative, must adopt, maintain and implement a conflict-of-interest management policy that complies with the provisions of the Act.

A provider must thus have a documented policy on conflict of interest stipulating the objectives and processes in managing conflict of interest. All providers, key individuals, representatives, associates and administrative personnel should commit to such policy and the processes should be monitored on an ongoing basis.

The provider should keep and maintain a register in which all actual or potential conflicts are recorded.
